$379

August 16–October 13

$399

October 14–November 16

$429

Pricing includes: 2 continental breakfasts, 1 boxed lunch, 1 plated lunch, 3 breaks, field experience tour, networking reception (hors d'oeuvres and drinks), and conference materials.

NETWORKING AND IDEA SHARING

This conference offers countless networking opportunities and the chance to connect with various groups involved in community forestry. You will also be able to benchmark and collaborate with other industry leaders and learn from what they are doing in their communities.

PARTNERING EVENTS

Other forestry events are being held on Monday, November 13 and Tuesday, November 14 in the same location:

- Alliance For Community Trees Day
- Society of Municipal Arborists' 53rd Annual International Conference and Trade Show
- Utility Arborist Association Regional Meeting

This means you can easily and cost-effectively attend multiple events at one destination.

WHAT OTHERS ARE SAYING

"Partners in Community Forestry is THE go-to get together for urban and community forestry professionals. The talks are relevant and well-organized, opportunities for action-oriented side meetings abound, and local tours add a lot to the experience."

—DANA COELHO
U.S. Forest Service

"If I had to choose only one conference to attend all year, this would be the one. These are the people who do what I do, understand what I do, and can share ideas to help what I do. I have been fortunate to attend for 5 years, and I return to my job energized, excited and full of new ideas and resources."

—BETH CORRIGAN
Morton Arboretum

"The conference connected me with many people with similar concerns and different ways of looking at them. I was lucky enough to be provided with some new ideas to take back to my utility, provided by the material presented in the conference. This conference literally gave me at least 2 years' worth of things to improve on."

—ROBERT SHELTON
Eugene Water & Electric Board

"It's an opportunity to meet some wonderful people who are doing great things in their communities and cities. The tours are great! A wonderful experience that gets you motivated to do more when you get back to your own community or city."
